Andy Hoffman

Looking to the future while respecting the past.

4820 SE Holgate Blvd
Portland, OR 97206
(215) 620-4900
antibland@gmail.com

RECENT EXPERIENCE

Troop Themes — Shopify Theme Developer

September 2016 - Present

Created scalable, accessible, high traffic web applications using Liquid, Flexbox, SVG, PostCSS, SCSS, JavaScript/jQuery/JSON/Ajax, Git and Gulp.

- Strongly utilized progressive enhancement
- Built custom animations
- Created end-to-end user interactions

IBM — Staff Software Developer

April 2013 - September 2016

Front-end lead and accessibility expert for Application Builder, a responsive, Watson application allowing users to construct their own large-scale, cognitive, data-driven interface.

- Mobilized the application
- Owned the JavaScript and CSS layers
- Modernized team workflow with PostCSS, JavaScript tool

Branding Brand — Lead Mobile Developer

April 2012 - April 2013

Developed mobile websites for Fortune 500 companies using HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript.

- Trained entire development team on SCSS (Sass) and successfully introduced it into the website-building workflow
- Created reusable, extensible JavaScript objects

EDUCATION

Mongomery County Community College — Associate Degree, Computer Science

1998-2000

University of Pittsburgh — Computer Science

2000-2003

SKILLS

JavaScript (vanilla, Node, jQuery, Angular, Express), HTML5, CSS3, SCSS, Stylus, SVG, XML, JSON(P), AJAX, Ruby, PHP, Liquid, Git(Hub), Selenium, Jasmine, browser performance, responsive design, Gulp, Grunt, Webpack, accessibility compliance (WCAG, 503, ARIA), Photoshop

PUBLICATIONS

Accessibility: The Missing Ingredient An ARIA overview and working example of a shopping cart as experienced on a screen reader.

A Case For Responsive Résumés A PDF isn't the only choice for showing off one's résumé.

Web Standards in the Real World As codebases grow, clean markup matters more than you might think.

REFERENCES

Available upon request.